CONFERENCE HERE PLANS DRIVE ON WORMS

Body Of Warren Harding Tenderly Is Laid To Rest

LAST HONORS PAID BY HIS OWN PEOPLE

Fallen Chieftain Borne
To The Tomb While
Thousands Mourn

LEGIONS CROWD MARION STREETS

Long Lines Wait To Pay
Last Honor To Man
They All Loved

(By Associated Press)

MARION, O., August 10—The special train bringing President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and other high officials, arrived at Marion at 12:45 p. m.

MARION, O., August 10—At 1:30 o'clock, 15 minutes before the hour set for the funeral services at the Dr. Harding home, the line passing before the body was stopped.

Thousands still lined the sidewalks, reaching a mile to the station.

MARION O., August 10—Warren Gamaliel Harding, 29th president, was borne to his tomb this afternoon while thousands of his relatives, friends and neighbors mourned in common with millions of his countrymen.

Back home under the native sod of his native state, the man who lately had been weighted with all the honors the nation can bestow, was brought for final rest. His neighbors loved him as a man and honored him as the nation's chieftain.

Today these neighbors laid him tenderly away. Slow moving throngs crowded the streets of Marion again today in the last public honors Warren Harding knew before the doors of the ivory grown vault closed upon him.

It seems not alone Ohio, but every surrounding state from which Marion could be reached, had sent legions here to pass beside the bier or to stand silent as the dead President was carried to his rest.

Congested sidewalks flanked Center street where the home of his father, sheltered the famous son, stood behind a glowing wall of flowers.

The people started viewing the body at 8 o'clock.

Those passing beside the bier at 11 o'clock had been in line since seven o'clock this morning and had waited patiently since that time despite increasing heat. Several were overcome by the heat and were carried to the nearby offices of physicians by the Ohio national guardsmen who were on duty.

By eleven o'clock the line had increased until it extended, almost unbroken from the home of Dr. George T. Harding, where the body lay, to the railroad station little more than a mile away.

Those waiting stood four and five abreast. Numerous groups arrived during the morning but in accordance with a desire of Mrs. Harding they paid their tribute as individuals.

The following was the funeral program:

Prayer at the home before the funeral cortege left at 2 p. m. for the cemetery, Dr. Walter King, of Columbus, former pastor of the Trinity Baptist church, of which Mr. Harding was a member.

Arrive at cemetery at 3:10.

Firing presidential salute of 21 guns as the hearse enters the cemetery.

Song "Lead Kindly Light" by Trinity choir.

Scripture reading, Rev George Landis, pastor of the Trinity church.

Prayer, Dr. Jesse Swank, pastor of the Epworth M. E. church, of which Mrs. Harding is a member.

Song "Nearer My God To Thee" by Trinity choir.

Benediction by William S. Anderson.

AMID GLAMOR OF CIRCUS TENT, LOCAL COUPLE TO WED TONIGHT

MR. RANDALL AND MISS HAYNES

A sawdust ring wedding, nuptials amid the glamor of the circus tent; an audience of thousands of people, instead of a "few intimate friends," a most solemn occasion, after the hilarity of fifteen clowns trying to outdo each other in frivolity, a laughing of the matrimonial bark attended by the cheers of the multitude and the good wishes of many timid couples aspiring to the "heights" these principals have attained, but lacking the courage to have a "public wedding" surrounded by loads of gifts from their well wishers, and with all essentials furnished by the Tennessee Valley Shrine club. These are some of the points embodied in a unique ceremony that will join in wedlock tonight, at the Shrine circus tent, Miss Elizabeth Haynes, aged 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iverson C. Haynes, of Albany, and Everett B. Randall, aged 20 whose mother, Mrs. Lulu Randall, is a resident of Albany.

The ceremony will be performed in the main tent at the conclusion of the performance tonight, and Rev. G. T. Harris will be the officiating clergyman.

FENNEL BARBECUE LARGELY ATTENDED

Though the rain came it did not deter those invited to the annual neighborhood barbecue at the Edgar Fennell home on yesterday from braving the elements and attending. So well the guests knew that a most cordial and warm welcome awaited them on arrival that when the hour struck the friends were there and right merrily was the time spent.

Good cheer and heartiness dominated everything and "those present" had the time of their lives. The hostess, Mrs. Edgar Fennell was here, there and everywhere dispensing sunshine, good things to eat and drink and with her able assistants say that each and everyone were having a delightful day and this they did most successfully.

About 75 guests were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fennell, Mr. and Mrs. Pryor Preuit of Leighton being among them. These annual barbecues at the Fennell home are looked forward to impatiently by those privileged to attend.

National Guard Officer Sentenced

(Associated Press.)

GADSDEN, Ala., August 10—Captain Burley H. Hamil, of Company H, Alabama National Guard, was today found guilty of forgery and of presenting a false claim to the government in the United States district court and was sentenced to four years in the Atlanta penitentiary and to pay a fine of $500.

Motion to set aside the verdict and for a new trial was overruled. He is a citizen of Guntersville. It was alleged by the government that Captain Hamil made improper use of federal funds coming through his hands to men in his command.

BUSINESS LEADERS LEAVE FOR CAMP

An Annual Jaunt Over Several States To Start Late Today

HARDING MEMBER TWO YEARS AGO

Edison Commander-in-
Chief Of Expedition
Others Declare

(Associated Press.)

MARION, O., August 10—Throwing aside cares of business, invention and manufacture for a brief while, Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and H. S. Firestone will leave Marion late today for their annual camping jaunt over a number of states. The party, together with William F. Anderson, of Cincinnati, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church in Ohio, who also has been a member of the party in former years, but who is unable to make the trip this year, came to Marion to attend the funeral of the late president.

Mr. Harding was a member of the party two years ago.

Just where the party will go has not been definitely decided, Mr. Ford said today. The first stop tonight will be at the birthplace of Mr. Edison, at Milan, O. The party will sojourn there until, as Mr. Ford said, the "spirit moves them" when they will go to Mr. Ford's country place, near Detroit.

From Detroit the itinerary will likely lead through northern Michigan and Wisconsin but no definite schedule has been made up, Mr. Ford said. Where the party will go and how long they will remain and when they will break camp is in the hands of Edison, Mr. Ford said today.

"On this trip we plan to get as far possible," Mr. Ford continued. "We are seeking rest and recreation" and as an illustration of "recreation" Mr. Ford grabbed Mr. Firestone and gave him a jerk which nearly caused him to fall to the floor.

Baggage of the party is carried in two large motor trucks. Individual tents, cooking equipment and all other paraphernalia for such an expedition is carried. The members of the party travel in their own automobiles. The party plans to be gone about two weeks.

Twin Cities Inspect Tuscaloosa Street

Representatives of Albany and Decatur in the persons of Engineer M. S. Bingham, Mayor A. A. Britain and John A. Thomason are in Tuscaloosa today, where they are making an inspection of certain street pavements in the Druid City, with a view of having similar paving plan in Albany and Decatur.

Legislature May Declare Cullman Safe For Negroes

(By Associated Press)

Montgomery, Ala., August 10—Cullman, Ala., in the past said to have been renowned for unfriendliness to negroes, may be legislated out of its reputation, under terms of a bill before the state legislature and one which has been favorably reported.

The bill by Senator Griffith, of Cullman, would impose a fine of $500 on any person frightening or attempting to frighten negro domestic servants into leaving any locality of the state.

Years ago a sign was said to have been placed in the center of Cullman, reading: "Niggers, don't let the sun set on you here." The sign stood for years and recently an anti-negro movement is said by members of the legislature to have been revived.

CANINES' ATTACKS FEATURE DOG DAYS

Four Attacks Reported
To Health Unit Here
This Week

TREATMENT GIVEN BY LABORATORY

Four Decatur Children
Are Reported Bitten
By One Mad Dog

The annual "dog-days" period has brought its usual supply of news as to mad-dog bites this year, in the Twin Cities and in Morgan county. Just now considerable excitement exists over four attacks said by county health officer Dr. H. C. McRee to have been administered by dogs having the rabies. One dog at Falkville bit a young man named James Wiley of that town. An examination of the head of this animal by Dr. McRee showed positively the presence of "negri bodies" the active hydrophobia germs. Before this animal was killed he appeared as one of the largest dogs in this section, standing higher than a man's head when on his hind legs. Young Wiley is being given the daily treatment against hydrophobia recommended by the state board of health, the Pasteur treatment.

Twenty-one treatments will be given Wiley. The "immunizing treatment" is effected by the insertion of serum under both skins of the human body.

The second mad-dog to bite human beings in this county attacked its little play mates, three in number, the children of Mrs. Osborne who lives on Bank Street and the owner of the ill fated dog.

Two of the children are twins, three years of age, the other child bitten is a brother of the twins, six years of age.

Latest accounts from the physicians in charge of the victims are to the effect that their patients are doing well.

A movement is being led by Dr. H. C. McRee, to have the dogs of the Twin Cities, of Hartselle and of Falkville put under a standard city ordinance "against hydrophobia." The ordinances recommended by Dr. McRee and recently sent to the city councils of Albany, Decatur, Hartselle and Falkville, if passed will require not only that all dogs be muzzled, but that they also be given the "immunizing treatment recommended by the state board of health against hydrophobia."

Dr. McRee, said in connection with his plan to have dogs made immune against the rabies that prevention was better than cure adding in addition: "It is a whole lot better to have the serum sent into the dogs, than to have it shot into us."

CONGRESSMAN HAS CLASH WITH TROOPS

(Associated Press.)

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 10—Congressman Turner Logan, chairman of the city executive committee, clashed with state troops guarding the Bibernian hall here today, when he attempted to enter the hall to preside over the committee meeting called to formally declare the result of Tuesday's municipal primary.

The chairman, who represents the first South Carolina district in congress, resisted efforts of the soldiers to search him for arms.

Sheriff Poulton, of Charleston, was directed to arrest Mr. Logan by Lieutenant Colonel Harry Whittington, commanding the two national guard companies on duty, but the former instead prevailed upon the congressman to go with him to an ante room and a few minutes later, the sheriff announced that he was satisfied the chairman was unarmed.

Members of the committee and others were searched by the troops as they entered the hall. The result of the Grace-Stoney race for mayor is to be decided this afternoon.

EX-CROWN PRINCE MAY LEAD MONARCHIST REVOLT

According to a Hague dispatch to the London Evening News, the German Ex-Crown Prince has become "mysteriously active" in his island retreat in Holland, and it is believed he is preparing a monarchist coup. Recently an immense yacht, flying the old Imperial German standard, appeared at Wieringen and Friedrich Wilhelm went on board for long conferences. Then he hurried to Doorn for ex-Kaiser Wilhelm.

EDISON DISCUSSES LIFE AFTER DEATH

(Associated Press.)

MARION, O., August 10—Thomas A. Edison, here to attend the funeral of Warren G. Harding, in talking to the Associated Press today, said that he "was seeking after the truth and had made much progress" in regard to the great beyond and life after death.

"The soul after death takes life," Mr. Edison says, "but in what manner and form is unknown."

"Regarding spiritualism as it is commonly known," Mr. Edison said he did not believe that the spirit returned to earth and communicated with those living, but he added "we know that the soul does exist after death."

"I have not found it possible to demonstrate the existence of a life beyond the grave and I cannot say that men, including the beloved President Harding, live after death."

"There is a great directing head of things and people. A supreme being who looks after the destinies of the world. I have faith in a supreme being and all my thoughts are regarding the life after death, where the soul goes, what form it takes and its relation to those now living."

City Officials Are Guests Of Rambo

The city officials of Albany and the members of the police force enjoyed a chicken supper at the residence of R. H. L. Rambo last evening.

In speaking of the courtesy shown members of the police department and the city officials, Mayor Britain stated after the dinner that he did not recall when he had had a better time. D. L. Blackwell was one of the guests in addition to the city officials.

STATEN TRANSFERRED

A. B. Staten, a well known local man, and recently connected with the Tennessee Valley Bank at Paint Rock, has been transferred by that institution to Sheffield where he accepts a responsible position effective at once. Mr. Staten passed through the Twin Cities today on his way to Sheffield.

COTTON PESTS IN FIELDS OF VALLEY CAUSE OF ALARM

County Agent Here To Discuss Plans For Fighting Danger

ARMY WORM MAY DO BIG DAMAGE

Poisons Will Be Used In Campaign To Save
Cotton Crops

A phone message to J. C. Ford, Morgan County farm agent, at his office at Hartselle and delivered to Mr. Ford, without delay this morning; as sent from the county health unit, by local cotton farmers, brought the farm agent to the Twin Cities Friday morning for a conference on ways and means for destroying the "cotton army worm," since that pest has appeared here in large force.

According to Mrs. C. D. Patterson, L. B. Norton, R. W. Holland, Joe Landers and other cotton farmers of this section unless immediate action is taken against the army worm the pest will destroy hundreds of cotton crops in Morgan County causing a greatly reduce all the cotton crops of this section.

In Cullman county the pest has appeared in force and prominent farmers near Cullman have method a car load of calcium arsenate to poison the worm with, stated Carl D. Patterson this morning.

Mr. Ford came here for the sole purpose of advising how best to destroy the army worm before it destroys the cotton crop. The county agent calls the army worm "the leaf worm" and advised that large supplies of calcium arsenate be secured by Morgan County farmers.

He spoke of the worm appearing in the Danville neighborhood and in other parts of the county. Mr. Ford, along with other practiced farmers, were somewhat surprised at the army worm appearing so early as he generally comes later in the season, eating off the leaves at a time when comparatively little damage is done. It was explained that the lateness of this year's cotton and the early appearance of the worm, both taken together, constituted a real menace.

Mr. Ford explained that a sharp lookout should be kept by every farmer for the pest, that he appeared first in low lying damp places in the cotton patch. It was explained that the coming generation of the worms, the off spring of the present worms, were due to appear in two or three weeks, and that there would be hundreds of thousands more worms in the "second crop" than in the first. Mr. Ford furnished the company that met him here with Bulletin No. 54 as sent out by the state agricultural department, and advised that all supply themselves with the document as it gives full details on how to destroy the army worm.

Upon their arrival at the health unit earlier in the day, whether they had come seeking means for the destruction of the army worm, Messrs. Holland and Norton, showed considerable worry on account of the sudden advance of the army worm. Already a number of local people had become interested in the appearance of the worm and when Mr. Norton was seen coming up the steps of the Tennessee Valley laboratory he was asked if the army worm had appeared here and that farmer replied forcefully: "He is here, and in large force. Today you may go into a cotton patch and see no signs of the worm, while tomorrow, the same patch is practically destroyed." Continued Mr. Norton: "The worm begins near the top of the plant and works downward. And he seems to strike into the rankest cotton. He appears in the low damp places where the rains have settled. He has appeared earlier this year than I ever heard of, and the crop being late makes the

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE FOR MUSCLE SHOALS OF HENRY FORD'S BID

AMERICAN LEGION CALLS ITS MEMBERSHIP TO MOURN.

The American Legion has taken official cognizance of the death of President Harding and orders have gone forth from the office of National Commander Alvin Owsley directing that Legion posts throughout the nation observe thirty days of mourning in respect to "our beloved president."

This action of the Legion places it among the first of the present day patriotic organizations of the country. The action shows that American ex-soldiers have none of the selfish or unappreciative spirit. The efforts made by unpatriotic radicals soon after the war to align ex-service men with the so-called "bolshewiki" element of the country was a miserable failure, as was the attempt to disrupt the American Legion as it is at present organized. It is quite probable that the Morgan County post of the American Legion will take some official action in connection with the thirty days of mourning asked for by Commander Owsley. The proclamation of the national commander of the American Legion relative to days of mourning for Mr. Harding is in part as follows:

"National Commander requests the American Legion observe a period of thirty days official mourning in respect to our beloved President. All Legion posts and department standards should be appropriately draped with crepe. National colors are not draped. Commander suggests that departments and posts desiring to offer floral tribute remit to national headquarters the amount they wish to spend, which will be pooled and the best possible design secured and presented in Washington. Wire at once the amount your department desires to expend for this purpose. Remittance may follow by mail. As soon as plans for funeral are known, commander will advise plan of Legion participation.

"Commander desires special committee to represent American Legion at President's funeral, if the plans for this event provide the opportunity. No funds available to defray any part of expenses incident this participation from national treasury. Commander suggests your representative carry your department colors. Additional color bearers available at place of ceremony. Will notify you direct where to report, on receipt of further information. Commander desires all Legion flags at half mast until the hour of interment. Watch announcements in press for details."

WILL MR. COOLIDGE KEEP HIS PARTY IN POWER.

The record of American politics shows that every man who has been elevated to the Presidency, had disrupted his party sooner or later.

In the case of Theodore Roosevelt, he held the Republicans together until after he had been elected President on his own account, but disrupted his in 1912 when Woodrow Wilson was elected President. Mr. Roosevelt was the only Vice President who succeeded to the Presidency and subsequently elected President by a vote of the people.

Chester A. Arthur, the Vice President to please the Roscoe Conkling faction in New York. Mr. Arthur as President was expected to join the forces of Mr. Conkling and to antagonize James G. Blaine but he took no sides in any partisan political controversy. Mr. Blaine was nominated for President when the term begun by Garfield was completed by Arthur, but the forces of Conkling defeated Mr. Blaine and a Democrat was elected President in the person of Grover Cleveland.

The failure of Vice President Andrew Johnson after he succeeded to the Presidency to hold the confidence of the new Republican party is well known. He was all but impeached and retired from office in disgrace.

One of the ablest of the nation's Vice Presidents to become President, succeeded President Taylor—William D. Filmore, an eminent lawyer. He made Daniel Webster Secretary of State and thereby antagonized three great leaders of his party, William H. Seward, Horace Greeley and Tholow Weed. The Whig party was divided and defeated following the administration.

John Tyler succeeded William Henry Harrison, and became involved in many political controversies and at the expiration of Mr. Tyler's term of office the Democrats elected James K. Polk.

As to what success Mr. Coolidge will have as a political manager, should he attempt such a role time alone can tell. His expressed determination to follow out the policies of the late President Harding, indicated that the latest of the American Vice Presidents to gain the Presidency, intends to follow a careful and conservative course.

Two complications to be avoided, shooting irons and bills intended for laws.

Incidentally, since the Tennessee Valley is to boom, why not take a seat on the band wagon.

A certified accountant is all right, but to understand his totals it requires a certified interpreter.

A man is just as well or as sick as he feels. This talk about reducing weight interferes with too many pleasant dinners.

A. J. Volstead meant to say he had never taken one drink when he opined "I don't know that there is any harm in one drink." Or on the other hand he may be expecting to re-enter politics.

It is pretty hard to get excited any more over politics, except for those who have financial considerations at stake.

The man whom his fool friends cannot ruin is predestined to eternal success.

Voice of People

My Dear Mr. Shelton—

I want to say a few words through the columns of your splendid paper to the people of the Twin Cities and to all the people of the Tenn. Valley from Decatur to Sheffield. I want to tell the people of Albany and Decatur how very much I appreciate their friendship and great kindness to me on many occasions. If I was to start out to hunt up my friends in these Cities I would just take the census of both towns and feel sure that I was right. You know it has been said that a prophet is not without honor only in his own country. I don't believe this is true under all conditions. I am going to make a prophecy in this, my own country, and I believe that the people who read this letter will honor me for doing so. I see in the near future your cities get together; see them grow into the most splendid city in all this great Tennessee Valley. I see Muscle Shoals turned over to Henry Ford and see our greatest Alabamian Oscar W. Underwood elected president of the United States. This will be mighty good but Alabama with her great resources is entitled to all good things. Second to all this is a great highway from your city to Sheffield; let's have it and have it now. You know, Brother Shelton, that you and I can't wait too long our county officials are all splendid efficient gentlemen and will do all they can to aid this proposition; we certainly can do something. Call up the spirits and conjure the high powers to help us out. The progressive little city of Town Creek is always at the front ready to do her best; they have arranged to get the money to build a fine road down to the county line and join the magnificent road that Colbert County has just finished after leaving Town Creek going east you come to the Town of Courtland noted for its grand old southern hospitality. They are always ready to work in the lead in all good things; three and one half miles still east is the beautiful old southern home of General Wheeler's family. Wheeler Station: The citizens of this village are always ready and willing to do their part and want to do the most good to the greatest number of people. When Ford gets Muscle Shoals I believe that there will be many factories in the Valley near Courtland and Wheeler. Remember that many good things came to those that wait. Next on the line comes Hillsboro, my home town we have always been in the thick of the fight for all good things and have never lost a battle. We are in love with your city and your people and ready to join hands with you to help build a road that we may be able to come to see you and spend Christmas with you. All the Valley people from Town Creek east, just as soon as they get any money made haste to go to your cities and spend it. If winter comes and finds the roads as they are now you will have to put crepe on your doors for we will have to tell you good-bye for a long time. Hoping that many good things will come to everybody, I am your friend.

BRITAIN UNITES THE EMPIRE
 LONDON—During the war Great Britain seized a German submarine cable running from Emden to the United States, and at the conclusion of hostilities one end of the line was drawn up to England and the other diverted to Halifax.

Today at Halifax the wire joins the telegraph system which extends from Halifax across Canada to Vancouver and thence under the sea to Fiji, Norfolk Island, Australia and New Zealand.

As a result, messages can now be sent from London to the Antipodes in 30 minutes. Thus are the far-flung parts of the British empire held together.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Thinking for Yourself

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

A CERTAIN writer of fiction has been tried and found guilty of plagiarism—and every real writer in the country is shouting "Hip-Hip-Hurrah!"

Poor plagiarist! I wonder if he really knew he was stealing when he took a story written by Perry Newberry and Alice McGowan Cooke and re-wrote it and called it his, and then sold it for a good smart sum to a good, smart magazine?

There are people who steal every idea they see and make it their own.

Don't you know some of them yourself? I do. Aunt Katie is one.

Tell Aunt Katie a story of something that happened to you and six months later you'll hear the story at a dinner table, and when you trace it back you'll find that it all happened to Aunt Katie—and she's told it so often she really believes it.

Theories?—Aunt Katie never had a theory about anything in all her life herself. She's the human parrot, and she just repeats what she hears without ever troubling to tell where she heard it. And she's perfectly innocent about it, too. She thinks she thinks, and she believes she reasons.

She'd be the most astonished person in the world if you told her she stole your stories and stole your ideas and stole the way you trim your hats, and stole the arrangement of the furniture in your parlor. She hasn't the faintest wish to be original, and she never dreams that she irritates people by being such a "copy-cat."

How Many Really Think?

She doesn't want to express herself. How can she? She has nothing to express.

Winifred Black

school—some one who walked like you and talked like you and liked like you and hated like you? How fond were you of her?

Be careful, for by your answer we will all know one thing. If you were fond of her, you are an egotist, and never like any one who doesn't agree with you in every word you speak.

How many people are there who really think for themselves? Do you?

I know a man who has two sons and two daughters and a nice, foolish little wife. I think his wife irritates him a good deal by agreeing with everything he says, no matter how foolish he is.

At any rate, his children are going to think for themselves if he has anything to say about it. At the dinner table, when anything is discussed that man has an interesting method.

"What do you think about it, Mary?" he says to the very youngest in the flock. "No, not what do I think, or what does John think, or what did Helen say about it. What do you think yourself?"

And when Mary told what she thought her father said: "Why do you think so?"

The time I was there Mary gave a very clear, sensible answer, which showed that she really was doing her own thinking, for she compared the matter under discussion with something which had happened in her own class in school a few days before—and when she did that her father's face lit up with approval.

A Very Wise Father

"Good girl, Mary!" he cried. "Your brain doesn't creep any more when you try to make the wheels go round!"

And Mary laughed and flushed and looked happy.

Mary will never steal anybody's story or anyone's idea and make herself believe that it's her own, and she can thank her father for that.

Perhaps if the man who stole that story and sold it as his own had been a girl, she would have thanked him for it.

Filipino Women.
Filipino have some customs which seem queer to us. A woman does not drive a horse or automobile, or ride a bicycle. She may wish to be a nurse, but men and boys occupy this field. She can do fine embroidery, but the men design the patterns. Yet twice the percentage of Filipino women are earning their living in comparison with Canadian women. Co-education exists throughout the islands.

INSPECTION MADE OF ROAD BUILDING

State Highway Engineer W. A. McCalla, accompanied by E. A. Henry has just completed an inspection of the work of road building projects in this county over which the state highway commission has jurisdiction.

Mr. McCalla confirmed reports made some time ago by A. G. Patterson, a member of the state highway commission, concerning additional men being put to work in North Alabama on new road surveys.

Mr. McCalla was a resident of this section some years ago at which time he was active as a civil engineer.

E. A. Henry, who accompanied Mr. McCalla, was for years the local representative of the water company, and has many friends in the Twin Cities. Mr. Henry is now connected with the state examiner's at Montgomery.

NATION MOURNS

CHICAGO, August 10—The hundred million and more Americans drew close together today in thought, act and spirit as they lauded President Harding from coast to coast and from Canada to the Gulf.

Men and women of all ranks, religious denominations joined in memorial service as in rural churches schools village, town and city gathering places at nearly all hours of the day in states of the east, west, north and South.

It was a day of mourning with industries suspended.

MUSICIAN OUT OF TUNE

"Gas pressure in my stomach sometimes distressed me so that I could not think. I played out of tune and twice lost my position. No medicine helped me and I became disheartened. Another musician advised me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now enjoying the best of health." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

CENSUS REVEALS GROWTH OF AMERICAN COLONY IN JAPAN

TOKIO—Britishers, who formerly had the largest foreign colony in Japan with the exception of the Chinese, now are being given a close run by the Americans.

Returns just issued show that there are 2,562 Britishers resident in Japan and 2,549 Americans. There has also been an increase in the number of Russians, composed largely of political refugees.

There are just under 30,000 foreigners resident in the islands, of whom nearly 20,000 are Chinese.

Amusements

"The Woman He Married," one of the most successful plays on the legitimate stage, has been transformed into a motion picture, which will be shown at the Princess theater, starting a days run on Saturday.

The cast which enacted the cinema version of the play includes Darrel Foss, Donald MacDonald, William Conklin, Shannon Day, Charlotte Pierce and Charles Belcher.

The story relates the difficulties which assailed a beautiful young artists' model when she married the son of a millionaire steel magnate, and it is conceded to be the best production in which Miss Stewart has ever appeared on the screen.

Wild West Show Has Many Wonders

The Cheyenne circuses are some wonders, according to W. H. Lee, popular local employee of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, who has just returned with his family from the capital city of Wyoming.

Mr. Lee exhibited some pictures showing the big show put on in Cheyenne while he was in that city, by the chamber of commerce there, which indicates that thousands of people attended the circus daily and that some wild west acts were accomplished that just the pictures of, "raised the hair."

One picture showed where a mighty horse of the west had thrown one of his stranger riders to the ground with great violence.

BRITISH SOLDIERS PREPARE TO LEAVE

(By Associated Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 10—With the coming of peace at Lausanne, preparations are being made by the British army to evacuate the territory which they have held since the armistice. There will be genuine regret among all the Christian races here, and no little sorrow among the educated class of Turks, when General Harrington and his 12,000 soldiers bid farewell to the Golden Horn. For whatever uneasiness their presence gave to the new regime at Ankara, their occupation of the capital and Straits has been a power for good.

Indeed with the small French and Italian garrisons and the Yankee blue-jackets from the American destroyers in the Bosphorus, the British soldiers have been the main source of security and order throughout the large area menaced by the Turks. Time and time again at Chanak, in Gallipoli, at Constantinople and in Thrace, their patience has been tried by the Turk, but they have kept their rifles muzzled their bayonets reversed and their tempers in leash.

General Sir Charles Harrington, the patient and tactful commander-in-chief of the allied forces here, has addressed a typical message of communication and of caution to his officers and men. In it Gen. Harrington, who is beloved of all works for his human qualities and his constant solicitude for his men, says:

"It must be realized that it is only human to expect that our departure will be heralded with a certain amount of satisfaction by the Turks. I look to all ranks to conduct themselves during this period with dignity and restraint, and to do all in their power to avoid incidents, so that the evacuation may be carried out in accordance with the high standard which exists throughout the force, and so that they may leave behind them a memory and respect for British forces which will be long-lived in Turkey and in the history of the British army."

"All have a difficult task to perform. The patience and restraint which have been exercised by the troops are beyond all praise, and worthy of the best tradition. The closing weeks may be difficult ones, and for this reason I ask all ranks to help me in completing the task with the dignity and high sense of duty which has no characterized the forces I have been so proud to have under my command."

The evacuation will be completed six weeks after the ratification of the peace treaty. General Harrington has asked his government for instructions regarding the status of the army of occupation during the period subsequent to the ratification until evacuation. He suggests the provision that no Turkish forces shall be allowed to come to Constantinople, and that no triumphal entries shall take place until the last of the troops have gone, in order to avoid the danger of incidents during the delicate period.

worm a double menace."

R. W. Holland said: "The worm seems bent on the destruction of the whole crop. My cotton is considered unusually forward this year, but unless I can check the worm, I fear I will be unable to make much cotton, when all along I have had the best of prospects." Mr. Holland stressed as had Mr. Norton the danger of the worm, due to his unusually early appearance and to the lateness of the cotton crop.

Carl D. Patterson said that as yet the army worm had not appeared in regular army formation" on the broad acres being cultivated by himself, W. H. Aycock, Clyde Hendrix, A. G. Patterson and a number of tenants near the Twin Cities, but Mr. Patterson added that what appeared to be the advance guard of the on-coming army of worms had appeared and that the advance of the pest would be vigorously fought.

FRANCE ENDORSES COMPOSITE FUEL TO BREAK MONOPOLY

PARIS—Alcohol and gasoline, mixed in equal quantities will be put on the market as the French "national fuel" in October.

Long tests and a multitude of scientific sessions finally evolved this mixture as better than straight gasoline and a great forward step in "freeing France from foreign petroleum domination," a phrase often used in parliament.

France produces much alcohol, used largely in poor country homes for their limited cooking, and in industry. This production, it is held, can be increased many fold, so the country need no longer be dependent upon the heavy importation of petroleum that became a serious problem during the war and is blamed now for helping to keep down the franc.

Scientific commissions have decided half alcohol and half gasoline will not injure an automobile motor, will not increase the consumption, and will give greater flexibility with some increase in power. The cost of the new fuel is a matter of controversy. It is contended by its friends that competition will settle the question of price satisfactorily.

Many other combinations of alcohol gasoline, kerosene and crude oil have been tried. A test made by a government car recently gave good results with 70 per cent alcohol and 30 per cent kerosene.

Gasoline however, will remain the fuel for army airplanes for the present. The government hopes eventually to find a suitable fuel for its big air force, but the aviation service prefers to watch the work of the new fuel on dry land running before running any new risk of stalled motors in the clouds.

Hatch Eggs in Decaying Plants. The Australian brush turkey lays its eggs on the top of a heap of decaying vegetation, which it has piled up to a height of fifteen feet or so. SUMMER CAMPS TO DRAW THOUSANDS

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, August 10.—In the last days of July some 30,000 young men left their homes to spend a month in one or another of the 25 citizens' military camps which the government has organized for this summer, according to the announcement made by the military training camps association here recently.

Health in mind, body and character is the primary aim of the citizen's camps to which young men between 17 and 24 are admitted for a month of training at government expense and these camps are located at carefully selected sites in various parts of the country, so that no one need travel more than two or three hundred miles from his own home.

In making the announcement George T. James the executive secretary of the association, says:

"The camps are conducted by the most competent officers of the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserves, and no pains are spared to make the month of training an enjoyment and a profit to all who attend. Applicants are expected only after careful physical examination and with the endorsement of good character from reliable citizens, and in every detail the camps live up to the highest standards of American home life.

"All expenses, including transportation, are paid by the government but in return it asks that every young man go to camp with an earnest desire to return a better citizen. No finer education ideal can be found in all history since the days of ancient Greece than underlies the Citizens' Camps of 1923. The daily program is devised to interest and strengthen young men in every possible way. The morning hours are given to a carefully graduated course of military training from ordinary infantry drill through a succession of four years in the specialized work of other branches of the service, the cavalry, engineers, field and coast artillery, signal corps and air service. The afternoons are devoted to all forms of physical training and athletic sports. Ample entertainment is arranged for the evening hours.

"Religious life is not neglected since provision is made for voluntary worship on appropriate occasions for men of all faiths. Army Chaplains look after the moral welfare of the men enrolled and army hostesses arrange their social gatherings. Commodious and well arranged quarters are provided with libraries, reading rooms, cards, checkers and chess tables and pianos. The government provides a daily ration of nearly 70c and competent cooks prepare meals which compare most favorably with the best family or hotel tables. The men are quartered either in the permanent barracks or in tent cities, carefully laid out in company streets, not more than six men to each large size army tent on comfortable cots, every tent with substantial board flooring."

The military training camps association of the United States is promoting the summer camps and securing through its nation-wide organization the interest and cooperation of prominent citizens in every part of the country.

Our advertising message might be masterpieces of attention value, but they would be valueless unless our groceries were the best nationally known products, our fruits and vegetables the freshest and our prices low enough to warm the heart of the thriftiest buyer.

That our groceries, fruits and vegetables meet these requirements, that our prices are right, is evidenced by our sales, which get bigger and better every day.

All Over the World

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeannie Price

NEW YORK, August 9—One of the enterprising silk houses has brought out a new silk, gracefully named "Gissing Blue" in honor of Christopher Morley's "Where the Blue Begins." How many people know Christopher Morley? He is one of the infinite number of neighbors I have in New York whom I have never seen, and yet it is told that the applicants are many know very well. He does tricks with his blessed old language of ours which are even smarter than his thoughts—all in a sweet magical way. He loves the sea, as do most of us who never take the trouble to go look at it, and I should like to have a great boat named for him. On second thought, a nice comfortable yawl would be more in keeping. He would like that better.

Ernest Aimless makes no claims to simplicity of nature, and yet I found him all in confusion the other night in a theater lobby. He had heard a young woman turn calmly to another young woman saying, "Mother, have you a cigarette?" He just didn't want to believe such things were so.

Mulberry street has a scandal. Thomas and Nellie have both disappeared, and simultaneously, and what's more as many would have it, together. It seems reasonable he is a good Thomas cat, and Nellie but a canary. Angelo Rizzi, Mayor of Mulberry street, righteous chieftain that he is, has offered a reward of one hundred dollars for their return. One can not be skimpy with funds when you are a mayor, and the honor of a great thoroughfare challenged. The very fact that the two figures in the mystery have been fast friends for about eight years, would make it simple in one way, and complicate it in another. For those who favor gossip, only one conclusion would follow, and for those who are chivalrous the long acquaintance disposes of any theory of foul play. The facts are that Nellie's cage was found badly used, the feed spread about the floor, and Nellie gone. They may come back, but it is being waged along the street that if they do, one will be inside of the other, and there are no odds on which one will be visible to the naked eye.

Reginald Phelham Bolton is a local benefactor. He bought a spot of ground at the curve of Riverside Drive and 155th street and made it into a heavenly old fashioned garden to prevent its occupation by garages. Wedged in between a tall apartment house, a row of four-story dwelling and garages, this twenty-five foot smile is visible to his four neighbors, who have torn away their back fences to bask in its full comfort.

Brock Pemberton's affections in plays run to the product of two gracious American ladies and one noted Italian. He is to produce Zona Gale's named play by the Wisconsin writer, and a musical version of Clare Kummer's, "Good Gracious, Annabelle." We will all be glad to have more of Pirandello, for it was Pemberton's version that brought "Six Characters in search of an Author" last year to prove Broadway all wrong on what could be made successful as a play.

Until two years ago the sight of a gypsy anywhere in these environs was a rarity. Children were not as accustomed to as the little folks out in the great open places, and the police

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up. Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

were frequently called to cope with these strange glad eyed people. More and more do they appear now, and most any spot just outside of town will show the smoke curling up from their camp fires, and venturesome autoing parties going out to them to know their fortunes. Perhaps they are not as noticeable when they venture on the streets, because, what woman is there now who doesn't rival the gypsy in her colorful clothes?

A title for sale, right here in Democratic America. A dwindling house of Europe, through its accredited reigning Prince has advertised in the papers for a suitable young man or woman who can support a high sounding title. The aged lady would adopt the person and guarantee the lawful passing of the right and all its requisites. It is told that the applicants are many and that refinement and riches are yet willing to sell their birth rights for a mess of pottage.

PRELATE HERE TO SAVE ALTARS OF PALESTINE

NEW YORK—The sacred places of the Holy Land, the places hallowed by the human presence of the Saviour are in danger of becoming shabby and neglected. That is the word issued by Archbishop Panteleimon, representative of the Patriarchate of Jerusalem, who has come to this country to interest the Christians of America in saving these places and maintaining them in the dignity of which their sacred associations entitle them.

LAST RESTING PLACE OF WARREN G. HARDING

Here is the little receiving vault, in the Marion, Ohio, cemetery where the body of Warren G. Harding will lie temporarily. The late President owned a plot in the cemetery, where his mother and sister are buried, and in this plot his own remains later will be interred, when a tomb has been erected.

The locations include the Holy Se—to cooperate with the American Com-pulchre, Bethlehem, Nazareth, the Mount-mitte on the Preservation of the Sa-of Olives, and others woven into the sacred Places in the Holy Land in mak-life of the Lord. DICKIE KNOWS

A Boston strongman had two sons, fifteen and six years old, the elder of whom was to be confirmed.

The bishop and several distinguished persons were invited to dinner. The mother of the boys, desiring to show off the younger, asked earnestly: "Dickie, do you know what is going to happen in church today?"

"Yep, I know," he answered. "What?" she asked, with a glance around the table to call attention to the reply.

"The fish is going to put his mitts on brother's bean," Dickie remarked, carelessly.—Boston Traveler.

A Bone on Fido.
Rover, the Mastiff—Ah, Fido, my boy, these are sacred grounds hereabouts. Don't you know that the bones of your master's ancestors are buried in here?

Fido, the Terrier—Well, well, that accounts for it, then. I've run across several strange bones lately, but I laid 'em onto that new dog down the road.

In for Business.
Mrs. Knowsitt—I think Mr. Shyboy will propose to Anna tonight.

Mr. Knowsitt—What makes you think so?

Mrs. Knowsitt—Didn't you notice how determined she looked as she went into the parlor?

WANTED TO KNOW

Mamma—Now, Willie, if you'll be a good boy I'll give you a nice birthday present.

Willie—Dat's like buying a cat in a bag. Wat's de present?

Disliked Being in Society.
"I've got to attend a dinner tonight," the oyster said. "It's the swiftest kind of a dinner, but I'd sooner be in my bed."

The Worst Yet.
"There! There! What has Ferdie said been doing now?"

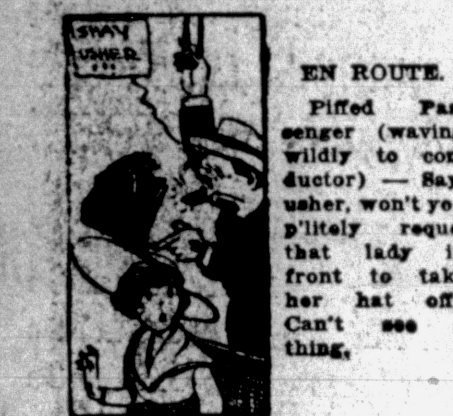

"Oh! mother, I'll never forgive him. Last night he put a mouse in his change pocket and I nearly died of fright when I touched it, and he never woke up to comfort me."

Cause and Effect.
"Does my daughter's piano playing annoy your husband?" asked Mrs. Gushley of the woman next door.

"Not in the least," replied her neighbor, sweetly. "He always goes out when she starts."

Easier.
The Doctor—You sleep too much. You must get up three hours earlier in the morning.

The Patient—Well, if it's all the same to you, Doc, I think I prefer to go to bed three hours later.

EN ROUTE.

Puffed Passenger (waving wildly to conductor)—Ray, usher, won't you piffle request that lady in front to take her hat off? Can't see a thing.

Stung!
She wed a man of high estate, but found, to her despair, his high estate was nothing but a castle in the air.

What He Wished.
Cook (extracting folded paper from an envelope)—I wish that this bill from my tailor was like a glass of muddy water.

Hook—What's the explanation?
Cook—A glass of muddy water settles itself if allowed to stand.

Change of Expression.
"City people used to laugh at the farmer."

"Yes," said Farmer Cornstossel. "Now he's got so proud an' prosperous they make faces at him."

Entirely So.
Judge Freedom—So Judge Cortly is going to dine at your house. What do you say if I do too?

Lawyer Cortly—I shall say it's an unexpected honor.

Strict Obedience.
"When that henpecked man's wife told him to beat it, he never moved a foot from where he was."

"So he defied her?"
"No; he kept on beating the carpet."

Free Advice.
Humor—Well, I didn't have to pay the doctor.

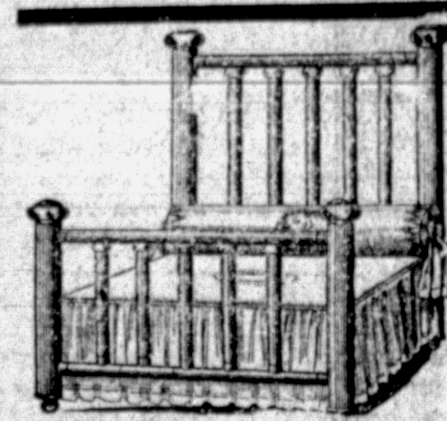

Us—Why not?
Humor—He treated me.—Ohs, arral!

Wittily Expressed.
A severe critic, speaking of a work in terms which at first appear flattering, said: "There is a great deal in this book which is new, and a great deal that is true." Then he added, "But unfortunately happens that those notions which are new are not true, and those that are true are not new."
